Objective

Hello, my name is Samuel Mallia, and I am attending Wright State University to learn all I can about Software Engineering & Computer Science. While I also have a passion for music, I've always loved computers and experimentation. In both music and software, I experience great joy in working on a problem and watching as it unravels into a clean result.

My immediate career goal is to get an internship in the field of Software Engineering to gain experience and knowledge and to begin applying what I've learned during my education in a real-world setting.
